

Time Magazine: Person of the Year Assignment Directions

Step 1: Choose the "Person of the Year."

- Decide which of the following Chinese leaders had the greatest impact during the collapse of Imperial China to the temporary pause of the Chinese Civil War (approximately 1911-1937).
  - Sun Yixian (AKA Sun Yat-Sen)
  - Jiang Jieshi (AKA Chiang Kai-shek)
  - Mao Zedong

Step 2: Research that person.

- Conduct research using the Chromebooks and pg. 448-452 of your textbook to take individual notes on your "person of the year." Your notes should cover these topics:
  - Biographical information
  - Role and involvement in the collapse of Imperial China and/or the Chinese Civil War from 1911-1937
  - Major actions or accomplishments from 1911-1937
  - Interesting or significant facts
  - Etc.

Step 3: Create your magazine cover.

- Use the provided template to make your cover.
- Create a hand-illustrated background that contains symbols or scenes related to that person.
- Write a caption that includes the name and title of the person you chose.
- Cut out the picture of the leader you chose and glue it on the cover.

Step 4: Write an article on the person.

- Write an article in your own words explaining WHY the person you chose had the greatest impact on China from 1911-1937. In order to effectively convince me that you made the right choice, you will need to:
  - Write at least two complete paragraphs
  - Include relevant and significant details about:
    - Biographical information
    - Role and involvement in China from 1911-1937
    - Major actions or accomplishments from 1911-1937
    - Interesting or significant facts
  - Thoroughly explain WHY this person is influential
  - Write clearly with minimal grammatical or spelling errors
- Write a creative and original title at the top of the article.
